

Upgrade your life

1.

From personalized vitamins, specifically created to optimize results for each client, to discounted, healthy foods delivered straight to your door, here are five websites that will help you improve your life.

3.

GRAMMARLY

Grammarly is a website extension that is free to download and is great for making sure everything is grammatically correct in your essays, emails or other forms of writing. Once you're done writing something, copy and paste it into the Grammarly website, and it will automatically check for mistakes. If the site finds a mistake, it gives a suggestion and allows you to either click a button to fix it automatically or ignore it. This extension is great because it's free (unless you want to upgrade to a premium version), it's easy to use, and it makes sure you sound professional whenever you write something.

MONDAY

Monday is an extremely efficient way to organize and schedule projects and can be used for school, work or everyday tasks. You make a board, write down the different tasks that need to be completed and then assign people to those tasks. You're also able to communicate directly with your team, thus eliminating long email or text threads. Through the calendar, you can easily navigate your projects as well as your team members' schedules. It also easily connects with other apps such as Dropbox and Google Drive, so sharing and downloading projects from various apps is easy!

2.

THRIVE MARKET

Thrive Market is a website where you can order food online and have it delivered right to your door. You're able to get healthy, high-quality products at 25-50% off retail prices, and the money you spend sponsors free memberships for low-income American families. They have products in a variety of categories, such as food, pet supplies, bath and body, and health and home. Many of the products also have helpful customer reviews to aid your shopping choices. There is free shipping on orders over $49, and new customers get 20% off their first three orders.

4.

HONEY

Honey is an Internet extension that can be downloaded for free on most major browsers. Honey searches the Internet for coupons and promo codes and then applies them to your cart during check-out. The extension also automatically gives you rewards points (called "Honey Gold") which can then be redeemed for gift cards whenever you choose. It's completely free, extremely easy to use, and a great way to save money when you're shopping.

5.

CARE/OF

Care/of is a website designed to find vitamins tailored to your individual needs. You can browse their vitamin selection yourself or take their quiz and have them suggest the vitamins they think you could benefit from. Each vitamin has been researched and has a detailed description of its benefits. The website informs its customers about the benefits of their products and is totally transparent about how much the products have been researched.
